RUSSIAN AND AMERICAN CLAIMS OF CONTACT

There have been claims on the web recently that both Russians and Americans have had contact with extraterrestrials for some time:

Russian:*X-Files of Soviet Defense Ministry exposed 21.02.2013

In Soviet times, the Ministry of Defense was working on a secret project aimed at creating a superhuman with paranormal abilities. Under this project, a group of scientists managed to get in touch with a foreign civilization. The head of this top-secret project shared some details with reporters for the first time.

On a regular winter day in Moscow, in the comfort of a room with a fireplace, journalists were given a real sensation. A senior retired official of the Ministry of Defense, lieutenant-general in reserve, PhD, a fellow of the Academy of Natural Sciences Alexey Savin said that in the late 1980's a group of researchers from the Expert Management Unit of General Staff managed to make a contact with representatives of another civilization. Interestingly, none of the journalists were particularly surprised but, rather, relieved with the "confession."

Vasily Yeremenko, a Major General of FIB in reserve, academician of the Academy of Security, Defense and Law Enforcement, was the first to speak to the press. In Soviet times he served in the KGB and supervised the Air Force and development of aviation technology. Among his assignments was collection of information by the Air Force of the facts of appearance of unidentified flying objects. According to Vasily Yeremenko, by that time there was an ample amount of such information.

Missile units were even given a directive in case of detection of UFOs. The main task was not to create opportunities for reciprocal aggression. In 1983-1984 at the testing grounds of the Academy of Sciences by Vladimirovka, the Ministry of Defense and the KGB organized a large-scale study of paranormal phenomena. The military training site was not a random choice. Experts have long come to the conclusion that UFOs inevitably appear in places where military equipment and weapons are tested. "We can say that we learned to summon UFOs in Vladimirovka. To do this, we dramatically increased the number of military flights and movement of the equipment. If the intensity on our side increased, UFOs appeared with the probability of 100 percent," explained Yeremenko. After six months of tests the authoritative commission came to three main conclusions. First, modern science was not yet able to identify such phenomena. Second, it could be reconnaissance equipment of the U.S. or Japan. Third, it could be an impact of an extraterrestrial civilization. "The UFO topic today is ubiquitous. Precisely because of its scandalous nature serious scientists are not willing to identify their position on this issue. Pilots often see such objects, but they have a veto on this topic, so do astronauts. In confidential conversations they talk about their experiences meeting with UFOs, but they are afraid to speak publicly about this," said Vasily Yeremenko.

He believes that this subject requires a serious approach because it is a security issue. Yet, it is still a closed topic both in the U.S. and in Russia. Lt. Gen. Alexey Savin proceeded to reveal some aspects of the engagement of the Ministry of Defense. He headed the Expert Management Unit of the General Staff, whose task was to examine various unusual phenomena.

The main project of the unit was a state program on the discovery of intellectual human resources. The goal of the program was to identify ways to make the human brain work in a special regime of super-powers, making a person a superhuman. The Scientific Council of the program was led by an Academician Natalya Bekhtereva, who until her death served as a scientific director of the Institute of Human Brain of RAS.

Over two hundred highly skilled professionals from across the country participated in the program. "In the process of research, we came to the conclusion that a human was an energy and information system that receives information from outside. This is precisely why a human can manifest paranormal abilities," said Alexey Savin. In order to identify this external source of information, three groups were created. One group was formed from scientists, another from military, and the third one was composed of women.

The group of women made the most significant progress in the research. Savin explained that they "wanted to make a contact with representatives of other civilizations. And we did it." According to him, a special method has been developed that allowed the human brain to tune into a contact. "We had to tune the energy-contour of the human brain to a particular wave, like a radio," Alexey Savin explained.

No hypnosis, drugs, or other similar methods were used in the course of the experiment. A special system of testing was also developed to separate the incoming reports from hallucinations and insanity of the experiment participants. The experimental results were impressive: six participants were given a chance of physical contact, and two of them even managed to visit an alien ship. According to Savin, representatives of extraterrestrial civilizations revealed themselves gradually, giving away the information as they saw fit.

In particular, they talked about their government structure and education system. No information on the military could be obtained. The only thing they agreed to share was a scheme of the equipment for the diagnosis and treatment of various diseases. The head of the experiment explained that humans were like small children to them. "Our civilization is too young to be of interest to them as a subject for a dialogue. Because we are also a part of the universe, we may harm ourselves and other civilizations with our foolish actions, so they are looking out for us."

The program of communication with extraterrestrial intelligence had been developed for several years until politics intervened. In 1993, the study was stopped and the unit disbanded. According to Savin, he was able to retain only a small number of documents, most of them, including photo reports, are still in the archives of the Ministry of Defense. Incidentally, the unique method for the development of the phenomenal abilities of an individual, until recently, was used in the Academy named after Gagarin until it was disbanded by the former Defense Minister Serdyukov. Yet, the core of the research team was preserved.

"Four years ago we tried to repeat the experiment, and we were successful," said Alexey Savin. According to him, today this work continues, and the "brains and talented people are still present in the defense industry." Answering the question of Pravda.Ru why it was decided to announce it to the media Savin replied: "Why hide something from people? Instead, they need to prepare for new challenges."

He believes that there are two global challenges today: climate change and shortage of drinking water. Russia has a special role in this process. "When we pass the point of bifurcation, people from all over will run to us. How will we meet them, with weapons? Of course, we will have to negotiate." Maybe all this is a puzzle from the "textbook" for young civilizations? Perhaps, aliens have arranged an experiment to see how we would handle it.

Breaking News: Barack Obama prepares for UFO arrival, open alien contact

All News Web recently received a series of brief emails from someone who claimed to have worked in the Pentagon within the DARPA agency on a project that involved collaborating closely with both NASA's Ames Research Center and SETI. The person who has identified herself as 'Tina' has provided us with a number of scanned documents that back the veracity of her claims to some extent (these documents confirm a professional relationship to the Department of Defense, they do not relate to any information regarding the aliens).

The correspondent claims to have SAP clearance and has had some access to 'Black Project' information. She claims that a multitude of departments house small nucleuses of employees working on the same or related projects and information is very compartmentalised, provided on a 'need to know' basis at her level of clearance.

'Tina' has a university degree in marketing and came to work on the project which she declines to name via an initial position in the Pentagon's public relations operations. Her position involved relaying and rewriting electronic messages for distribution to certain world organizations regarding imminent open contact with an alien race. We are unsure as to why she has contacted All News Web.

According to Tina the last and only physical meeting between aliens and the Government and indeed the only actual official Government recorded UFO landing and alien visitation in the last century up until now occurred in the early 1950's and was a meeting between three alien explorers and President Truman. The meeting involved some form of limited telepathic communication and involved the Aliens expressing relief that WW2 had come to an end. The aliens promised to return one day. The Aliens were about three foot and of somewhat classic 'Grey' appearance. Photographs were taken and these, which have been seen by a handful of media figures (Stanley Kubrick, Steven Spielberg), have become a basis for the traditional image of 'Grey' aliens.

The Aliens are believed to come from a planet about thirty light years away and it is unknown if they possess faster than light transport. Tina did not receive any information on Roswell or any reverse engineering projects involving ET technology.

She does not discount other informal alien or UFO incidents.

The aliens seek to establish ties with Earthlings. They are able to monitor the goings on here remotely and it appears they are at least a thousand years ahead of humans technologically.

According to Tina SETI is receiving and concealing regular explicit signals (and has been doing so for at least seven years) from this race that state that they are returning to earth in around four years (2013) and have spacecraft essentially mid-journey. The extra-terrestrials will land openly and in a way that will conclusively prove their presence and are doing so unilaterally. They have given the US government until then to prepare humanity for this event.

According to 'Tina's' emails some powerful security figures would like to thwart this open contact but are powerless to do so. Many figures associated with NASA and even the Pentagon are positive about the event and a conspiracy to hide the truth from the world's population is not unanimous.

What all parties agree on is that the best course of action is to leave any announcement of the event to the absolute latest possible time so as not to frighten people or harm the economy.

Major churches have been briefed on the matter and are being given time to shift their positions so as to accommodate this new reality. The US Govt has been 'requested' to mend and clean up rivalries and conflicts in preparation for this extraordinary event and this is the primary reason for Barack Obama's peace gesture to Iran and indeed his very presidency. Barack Obama is in almost daily contact with SETI and is communicating with the aliens directly.

The aliens indirectly contributed to the development of internet search engines and they are in limited contact with Google through SETI. They are able to access the internet currently and their involvement in search engine research is for the purpose of allowing them to understand as much about earth as possible prior to their next arrival.

It is believed that search engine algorithms are somewhat based on the form of telepathic communication they use.

Claims on YouTube:

Published on Jun 19, 2013

Latest UFO News - Recent Alien Contact 2013 - UFO sightings have been happening all through out history and the government made alien contact but did not tell the public. This is the biggest secret in the history of mankind. We are a small part of a much bigger picture and it is time for the human race to wake up. Disclosure will happen soon.

Pioneer in the development of 'Exopolitics,' Michael Salla discussed evidence of contact that is surfacing through major international agencies such as the Vatican, as well as the issue of diplomacy with ETs. In terms of negotiations with extraterrestrials who have been visiting our world for decades, he advocated a style of conflict resolution called Track II diplomacy, in which non-officials such as activists, scholars, and private citizens engage in dialogue, and propose solutions. Though ETs and various governments have reached agreements in the past, this has led to problematic cover-ups and abductions, and the general public has been left out of the secretive negotiating process, Salla noted.

He believes that some 19 different ET civilizations have been intervening on Earth, many of whom are more human-appearing than the "Greys" that are often associated with the idea of aliens. Some of these groups have tried to bypass the governmental talks and reach out directly to people, and their efforts date all the way back to the contactee era of the 1950s, Salla suggested. For example, the 'Friendship' case in Italy encompassed a 22-year period (1956-1978) in which human-looking ETs, who were living in an underground base, had ongoing liaisons and discussions with over 100 people, and shared their galactic knowledge with them. One of the lead contactees, Bruno Sammaciccia, led efforts to help the ETs by providing them with supplies and food, Salla recounted.

Another intriguing case involved a Colombian named Enrique Castillo Rincon who was said to meet with a Jesus-like ET in the Andes, along with about 20 other contactees. The Vatican has been moving toward an acceptance of ETs, and may be preparing to announce their presence, Salla reported, adding that the Catholic Church could benefit and become more popular by embracing a type of expansive spirituality that includes ETs in a kind of brotherhood. Salla also announced his new project ExoNews, in which he presents concise video reports on YouTube.

NOTES AND NEWS

UFO Or Angel Caught In Florida Swimming Pool

Monday night security officer Deborah Lee Thomas was watching the camera feed from behind an offshore building just across the street from Venetian Village. She noticed strange lights swoop in over the pool.

"I realised that it was something that was not normal."

Here's what she saw at first glance. It almost looks like a saucer shaped object up top, then it goes down into the pool and expands like a web, moving back and forth. After nearly thirty minutes it starts to disappear. Thomas says bugs fly up to the cameras all the time, but this was further away, dipping in and out of the pool.

"It was down on the crown but some of that webbing was longer and it made a funnel down into the pool."

We sent the video off to MUFON, a UFO organisation in Ohio. They're analysing it but they don't think it was a hoax. That's what Thomas's co-workers thought at first until they saw it themselves.

Deborah Lee Thomas

"I was so grateful it was on the tape so that I could really say it was there, it really happened."

Cigar over Brean, Somerset

Video footage of a cylinder-shaped object floating in the skies above Brean, near Burnham-On-Sea, has raised speculation that it could have been a UFO. The object, pictured, was seen travelling over Brean whilst shocked onlookers at a caravan park watched on. There are already a range of theories on what the object might have been, with some believing it was a kite or weather balloon, while users on video sharing website YouTube claim the object was a "high altitude observation balloon payload" or a "metallic shape, higher than a plane." UFO expert Malcolm Robinson said the object was "totally consistent" with other sightings. Mr Robinson, who runs the UFO group "Strange Phenomena Investigations", said: "This video of a UFO is clearly very exciting." "While UFOs are commonly thought to be spherical in shape, we receive dozens of calls from people who have spotted similar cylinder-shaped objects. There is, of course, an argument that this could be a weather balloon or some other common object."

UFO occupant waves to Wiltshire woman in early UK close encounter case

The following story, until now, has never appeared online. It was originally published in 2007 in Issue 25 of the now-defunct UK publication Paranormal Magazine.

"On a summer's afternoon in either 1948 or 1949, my mother Brenda was walking with my dog and myself in the area we called simply "The Field" at the back of our housing estate...in what was then the outskirts of Chippenham in Wiltshire. Whilst there, she saw an unusual occupied aircraft..."

So began a handwritten letter; tidy and succinct it documented a mother and daughter's close encounter with a peculiar flying object piloted by apparently non-human beings. Many years later the daughter Karen - a mere toddler at the time of the incident - solicited from her mother Brenda, a detailed description of what they had both witnessed that day, making a written record of her response.

Brenda had no trouble in recalling the details: "We were walking through The Field when this aircraft came out of nowhere and stopped nearby. There were two beings inside, sat facing one another. The aircraft was like a boat with a see-through cover. The two beings inside were neat and compact; they were dressed in grey and had helmets with a sort of crest on top. They were looking towards us, then one of them raised a hand, as if he were waving. Then the aircraft just went".

Through further conversation with her mother, Karen was able to establish that: there was no accompanying sound or scent with the aircraft; that it was in view for no more than three minutes; it was about nine feet long, and stopped approximately fifteen yards away at bungalow-roof height; there were no trains on the track nearby at the time; and that the area was otherwise deserted. Their dog, incidentally, "was interested in the aircraft, but was not alarmed".

Regarding her nondescript recounting of the object's departure, beyond stating that "it just went" Brenda had difficulty in expressing the nature of its movement. "She said it didn't exactly vanish instantly, it just "went" very rapidly" Karen related. After examining the details of this previously undocumented report, I was keen to establish the accuracy of its content, and to gauge the sincerity of the writer. Speaking with her by telephone, I found Karen to be charming and genuine - an intelligent and well-spoken woman whose bewilderment at the event described was evident nearly sixty years on. What then, to make of her story?

It was obvious that Karen had no prior interest in UFOs, and no ufological knowledge of which to speak, and at no time had she or her mother sought to publicise their experience. Indeed, the witnesses' names as written here are pseudonyms, a reflection of Karen's continuing desire for anonymity. Brenda passed away a few years ago, but despite her apparent nonchalance had always acknowledged the high strangeness of the event. "She said she realised that what she was seeing was something very different, but that she wasn't alarmed or afraid. She felt the beings were friendly."

Unbeknown to her, what Karen had reported was a typical close encounter of the third kind. This has considerable ufological significance in that it stands as one of the earliest CE3s on record in the modern post-1947 UFO era, not only in the United Kingdom, but anywhere in the world.

Forbidden History in Sardinia.

There is currently a very interesting series on the Yesterday TV channel called Forbidden History, putting light on a number of things which have been "forbidden" by powerful factions, religious and scientific. In its third programme it was revealed that there are legends of "giants" in Sardinia in ancient times. It has megalithic "giants' graves" which are actually communal tombs as in Britain, but there are other graves where very large human-type remains have reportedly been found. The tradition is that these are the biblical Nephilim, the "giants in the earth in those days" which Zechariah Sitchin has linked with Sumerian texts and hypothesises were a group of extraterrestrials which interbred with the humans that existed then. What suggests there may be some truth in this is that when a very large skeleton was found, government officials apparently appeared and confiscated the remains, which have never been seen since. This type of fraud is not usual in the case of archaeological finds, but only of things associated with extraterrestrials, so their action is actually evidence in favour of what they were seemingly intent on hiding.

LETTERS

from Norman Darwen, Lostock, Lancashire:

On the sweltering August Bank Holiday Monday, I took the family up to Coniston in the Lake District. After many hours by the Lake we decided - at around 7 pm - to try to climb the mountain known as the Old Man of Coniston. We followed the well-defined track for a while, then decided it would be too late to reach the top, and where we were was extremely quiet and appealing, if a little brooding. We stayed for about 20 minutes, gradually becoming quieter and succumbing to a not unpleasant atmosphere before coming back down. Only a few days later I was reading Peter Hough's book Supernatural Lancashire, which keeps to the older, pre-1974 county boundary - and looking at the book's photograph of the Old Man of Coniston, I realised where we had stopped was the same place. The photograph's caption was "The old copper mine workings on Coniston Old Man, close to where two school boys claimed to have photographed a "flying saucer". The photograph that Stephen Darbishire took back in February 1954 is very well known, and I recall seeing it frequently in the Lancashire papers even though I was not born when it was taken. It includes nothing in it that could identify the location. Certainly the site is well worth a visit - if only for the view!

THE HIDDEN UNITY and BEGINNINGS

The Hidden Unity looks at the strange phenomenon of subconscious siting of ley points, and notes that places of worship, of all religions and all ages, tend to predominate on leys. The environmental and philosophical implications of this are discussed, and the apparent necessity of worship but irrelevance of doctrine. Two ley centres are given as examples, and investigated in depth - the Shah Jehan Mosque in Woking and the Guru Nanak Sikh Temple, Scunthorpe. There is an appendix by Eileen Grimshaw on the significance of the Pagan religion to this study. Illustrated with photographs, maps and line drawings. £2 plus 30p p&p from the Amskaya address. Please make cheques payable to J. Goddard.

Beginnings is about a series of potentially useful discoveries, mainly made by Jimmy Goddard over a period of about twenty years, but having some overlap with discoveries made by others. For various reasons, the investigations are all in their early stages, and some have not been continued. They include earth energy detection, natural antigravity, subconscious siting, ley width, and the solar transition effect. There is also a chapter on cognitive dissonance - a psychological factor which seems to have been at the root of all bigotry - scientific, religious and other - down the ages. The booklet is concluded with an account of the discovery of leys by Alfred Watkins. £2 plus 30p p&p from the Amskaya address. Please make cheques payable to J. Goddard.

EARTH PEOPLE, SPACE PEOPLE

In 1961, Tony Wedd produced a manuscript Earth Men, Space Men, detailing many claims of extraterrestrial contact. It was never published, and I had thought it was lost, though it has recently been located - Tony had given it to Timothy Good. To try to make up for the loss in a much more modest size, this booklet was prepared. As well as giving details of some of the more prominent contact claims, there are articles on the history of the STAR Fellowship and some of its personalities, evidence for life in the Solar System and investigation into extraterrestrial language.

THE LEGACY OF TONY WEDD

This CD-ROM is an electronic form of the travelling exhibition Tony planned, using his voice, writing, photographs and drawings to illustrate his research and findings in the fields of flying saucers, landscape energies and lost technology.

£9.99 from the Amskaya address. Please make cheques payable to J. Goddard.
